£600,000 COST OF SHUTTING ADVICE CENTRE REVEALED

FOI request uncovers true price of closure after legal battle

Gemma Gardner
gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TERMINATING the contract of the town's former welfare rights service will eventually cost Harlow Council almost £600,000, it has been revealed.

Figures obtained under the Freedom of Information Act show that £598,611 – including £146,050 in legal costs – will be spent in current and future payments relating to the closure of Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice (HWRA) service.

The charity closed two years ago when Harlow Council withdrew its core source of funding in a row over unpaid debts. But supporters and former employees say the cost outweighs the amount owed by the service and claim the final bill could be higher.

"The figure underestimates the full cost because it does not include some other costs resulting from the termination of HWRA's contract," said former HWRA employee Sue Jones.

The service had offered to repay the cash it owed to the council – understood to be in the region of £125,000 – over several months, including a one-off payment of £60,000. This was rejected by the council which then terminated the contract, making 12 staff redundant.

Winding-up

There followed a year-long legal battle in the High Court at the end of which a judge ordered the winding-up of the service just over two years ago.

Ms Jones added: "Terminating HWRA's core funding and locking the service out of the advice centre made it

Volunteers plant 1,000 trees at meadow site

A TEAM of volunteers rolled up their sleeves and got down to some serious spadework when they helped plant 1,000 saplings in Harlow to mark National Tree Week.

The planting project took place at Parndon Lock Meadows, near Parndon Wedge Road, as part of a hedgerow restoration project.

Harlow Council recently entered into an agreement with the Land Trust to maintain and manage the meadows with the aim of improving the area for visitors.

A viewing platform overlooks a shallow depression, known as a scrape, scrape which has been created to trap water and attract wildlife.

TREE PARTY: Some of the volunteers who took part

Access throughout the site will be improved by replacing existing stiles with mobility kissing gates and resurfacing the lane which connects the A14 to Hertford and Parndon Mill.

During the first year of the project the council's landscaping and biodiversity team has been working with Greenteam volunteers to coppice a 200-metre section of neglected ancient hedgerow.

Over a two-day period 1,000 trees of 12 different species were planted along the newly-coppiced hedgerow.

Councillor Mark Wilkinson, portfolio holder for environment, said: "The planting of these trees in such a short space of time is an excellent way to celebrate National Tree Week and help improve the town's outdoor spaces."

"We hope this project will establish Parndon Lock Meadows as a flagship site for biodiversity within the Stort Valley Living Landscape and a place everyone can enjoy."

Night closures for resurfacing of M11

Work starts next week and will last for three months

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

A 14-MILE stretch of the M11 through Harlow is to be closed at night for resurfacing work.

The 12-week project involves resurfacing sections of the carriageway in both directions between junction 6 for the M25 and junction 8 at Bishop's Stortford, resulting in both full and lane closures.

Work will begin on Monday and is due to be completed by the end of February. It will be carried out during the week between 10pm and 6am on both the northbound and southbound carriageways including the M11-A120 link road.

Highways England project manager Jennie Fraser said: "This vital resurfacing work will not only improve safety but will provide road users with a better driving experience. The white lines will also be more visible, improving driver safety."

"We have planned this work carefully

The full closures

- The M11 northbound at junction 6 (M25) between the M25 entry and exit slip roads will be closed for two nights on December 11 and December 14.
- The M11-A120 southbound link road at junction 8 (Bishop's Stortford) will be closed for two nights on December 15 and 16.

- The M11 southbound between junctions 8 (Bishop's Stortford) and 7 (Harlow) will be closed for five nights from January 21 until January 27 (not including the weekend).

- The M11-A120 northbound link road at junction 8 (Bishop's Stortford) will be closed for two nights on January 28 and 29.
- The M11 northbound between junctions 7 (Harlow) and 8 (Bishop's Stortford) will be closed for two nights on February 17 and 18.

to minimise the inconvenience to road users by carrying it out overnight when traffic flows are lowest and will suspend work during the Christmas period."

During the overnight closures an alternative route will be in place. Drivers travelling on the M11 southbound will be diverted along the A120 towards Bishop's Stortford, down the A1184 and onto the A14 at Harlow before rejoining the M11 at junction 7 and vice versa for junction 7 northbound.

Those heading northbound on the M11 will be diverted onto the M25 at junction 6 travelling anti-clockwise west to junction 26 (Waltham Abbey) and return east to rejoin the M11 at junction 27.

The work is dependent on suitable weather conditions and dates may be subject to change.

impossible for HWRA to deliver most of the other contracts it held. This resulted in the loss of funding which eventually made it impossible for HWRA to repay the monies it owed."

The Freedom of Information request, submitted by HWRA supporter Pat Ruder, who was angry at the treatment of the charity, also reveals that councillors were not made fully aware of all the costs involved in the closure before making a decision.

A Harlow Council spokesman said "It was with great regret that the council had little choice in the end to terminate its contract with HWRA."

"The council did everything it could to try and resolve the issue with HWRA so that the services HWRA provided for the community could continue. Unfortunately independent mediation was not successful despite the council's best efforts to find a solution."

He said most of the legal costs were due to the council having to defend itself against action initiated by HWRA.

"In defending itself, the legal work was sometimes duplicated if not triplicated as HWRA instructed three firms of solicitors to represent it. This incurred extra costs for the council. The further threat of legal proceedings and HWRA contesting the winding-up petition further increased the council's legal costs."

He said pension costs of £324,000 will be spread over 18 years as payments are made to former HWRA staff and was a contractual obligation on the council.

"All costs relating to terminating the contract have been found within existing council budgets and the ongoing pension costs will be met through an existing pensions strain budget," he added.

■ A public meeting to discuss the information revealed by the FOI request will be held at St Paul's Church in the town centre on Saturday, starting at 11am.

Houses named in honour of soldier killed in action

Council's tribute to private who died while serving in Afghanistan

William Mata

william.mata@herbsexnews.co.uk

THE parents of a Harlow soldier who was killed in action in Afghanistan eight years ago were present when four newly-built council houses were named in his memory.

Private Robert Foster, of Great Plumtree, was just 19 when he died during a tour of duty in August 2007.

Yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon his parents, John and Lisa, were invited to an official ceremony to name the four two-bedroom properties Foster Court.

During the proceedings Mr and Mrs Foster cut the ribbon.

Touched

"We are extremely touched that Harlow Council has named one of its new housing developments after Robert," they said.

"He was very much a Harlow boy and loved his town, so this, along with his name on the Nettleswell Cross memorial, his oak tree in the Town Park and the bench at Ward Hatch, will be considered a real honour."

They added: "Although we will always feel his loss it is a real comfort to know that he is thought of with such pride, not only by his family and friends but also his town."

"We wish the residents every happiness in their new homes."

The Foster Court properties, in Momples Road, are among the first batch of council houses to be built in the town for 25 years.

They have been allocated to waiting families on the Housing Needs Register, who will be moving into their new homes shortly.

Cllr Tony Durcan, portfolio holder for regeneration and enterprise, said: "This is a proud moment for Robert's family, friends and colleagues."

"It is a fitting tribute that a development which makes history by providing the first new council houses for local families in more than 25 years is named in memory of Robert, who gave his life while serving and protecting his country."

A further council development at The Hill in Old Harlow will be named Riley Mews in memory of the Riley brothers - Thomas, Cyril and Francis - who came from Harlow and lost their lives during the First World War.

This development of seven two-bedroom homes will officially open on Friday, December 18.

Reason for fatal trek up A12 to remain a mystery

TRAGEDY: Kyle Brooks

THE reasons why a pedestrian was walking in the second lane of a busy road before being hit by a lorry and up to three other vehicles may never be known, an inquest was told this week.

Kyle Brooks, 28, of Broadfield, Harlow, died as a result of the injuries he sustained in the accident on the A12 between Boreham and Hatfield Peverel in the early hours of October 30 last year.

Essex Coroner's Court was told the previous evening he had been out with friends in Chelmsford and had drunk at least eight lagers and two shots of Jägermeister.

The last time his friends saw him was when he left to smoke a cigarette. He failed to meet them at a taxi rank at 2.30am. Although no-one knows why he ended up where he did, his friends told police they would often visit the McDonald's restaurant at the Boreham interchange after nights out.

Tragic accident

Senior coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray, who presided over Monday's hearing, said: "We'll never quite know why he was there. It was a tragic accident."

The court heard Mr Brooks was struck by a lorry in the second northbound lane of the A12 at around 3.45am and the force of the impact threw him into the third lane, where he was hit by a Mercedes car and possibly two other vehicles.

He was pronounced dead at the scene. A pathologist gave the cause of death as multiple injuries due to a motor car accident.

PC Alan Barlow, a forensic scene investigator for Essex Police, said the lorry was travelling at a speed of about 54mph when it struck Mr Brooks.

"It was dark, wet and misty," said the officer. "The lorry driver would have had very little chance to react to a hazard."

Before the crash, Essex Police received three emergency calls between 3am and 3.40am indicating three different locations for a pedestrian walking on the carriageway. A police vehicle was dispatched to carry out search but officers were unable to find him.

Investigate

The Independent Police Complaints Commission continues to investigate the force's response.

The coroner recorded a verdict of accidental death.

In a statement released after his death, Mr Brooks' family said: "Losing Kyle so cruelly is something that we will not ever come to terms with. Our lives are emptier without him."

Subsidy cuts will cost jobs

SIR, Does the Government really want to maximise the number of jobs? If so, they need to explain why their recent proposals to cut subsidies to the renewable energy industries are a good thing.

They do not deny that the move will cause thousands of job losses and they have said this is a sector which will need to grow in the future. So why cut it off at the knees? It is counter-productive economically and in terms of climate change.

The fastest possible roll-out of generation from renewable energy sources is one of the two most important pillars of any policy to make significant reductions in carbon dioxide emissions.

The other pillar, which the Government also appears to dismiss as irrelevant, is energy saving. Demand for electricity can and must be throttled back.

In brief, the Government needs to show some consistency in its treatment of the renewables industry instead of chopping away its support. It needs to show by its actions whether it really believes in bringing about a solar revolution. And it should be going into the Paris climate change negotiations with at least a small degree of credibility.

Our energy policies put us to shame beside those of Sweden, Denmark, the Netherlands and Germany. They still talk of us leading the field in renewables but don't they know that we lag well behind these countries, and even China?

Santa letters for Childline

SIR, As we approach the festive season I would like to ask Star readers to do something amazing this Christmas to support the work of the NSPCC.

Santa has teamed up with the NSPCC to send magical, personalised letters straight from the North Pole to local children to help bring their Christmas to life.

The letters are personally tailored to each child, with mention for instance of their best friend or congratulating them on an achievement at school.

All we ask in return is a £5 donation. That £5 could enable the NSPCC's ChildLine service to answer a child's call for help.

Without the backing of local people we simply wouldn't be able to deliver our vital services which are so often a lifeline to many children and young people whose lives have been affected by abuse.

So thank you to everyone who has already helped in some way this year and if you can do this one extra thing it could make all the difference to a scared or lonely child this Christmas.

Don't ignore cancer survey

SIR Last month thousands of men sprouted Movember moustaches to raise awareness of men's health. I am appealing to Star readers with personal experience of prostate cancer to keep an eye out for another unique opportunity to make a difference to the lives of those who develop the disease in the future.

In the coming weeks men who were diagnosed with prostate cancer between 18 and 42 months ago will start receiving a crucial survey from their hospital, funded with money raised through Movember. The aim is to build up a detailed picture of the impact of prostate cancer on all aspects of a man's everyday life, by asking the only people who really know – those who've been there.

Their confidential answers will be used to help make sure other men can be better advised and supported in the future and to persuade health providers to invest in the services that men say make the most difference to them.

I urge any of your readers who receive this survey to fill it in and add their voice to tens of thousands of others fighting for change.

This isn't just another lifestyle survey. The more men who respond, the more forceful the findings will be.

INQUEST: Jury returns unlawful killing verdict on mum-to-be murdered by ex-boyfriend

Court Reporter

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE parents of murdered mum-to-be Eystna Blunnie say they are satisfied a "full and proper investigation" into her death three years ago has now been carried out after an inquest jury ruled she had been unlawfully killed.

Ms Blunnie, 20, of Halling Hill, Harlow, died in hospital in June 2012 after being brutally attacked by her former boyfriend Tony McLernon. Medics were unable to save her unborn baby, Rose, who died from oxygen starvation.

McLernon, 26, of North Grove, Harlow, was subsequently jailed for life for murder with a recommendation that he serve a minimum of 27 years.

An inquest was opened and adjourned a few days after her death but the coroner later decided there was no need for a full hearing to take place because of McLernon's conviction.

But that decision was reversed following a two-year campaign by Ms Blunnie's parents Kevin and Sue, who claimed their daughter would still be alive but for failings by Essex Police, Essex Social Care, the Crown Prosecution Service and health trusts.

Reopened

The inquest finally reopened last month and during the course of hearing the jury was told the authorities were aware that Ms Blunnie had been the victim of domestic abuse and that McLernon had previous convictions for attacking former girlfriends.

But evidence given by professionals involved with Ms Blunnie stated that she often failed to engage with them or follow advice such as going to a refuge after an assault in April 2012 in which he allegedly choked her. She had also repeatedly denied she was still in contact with McLernon.

After the jury returned its verdict on

Eystna and Rose are there every minute of the day... we miss them very much

Thursday, Essex area coroner Eleanor McGann said she would not be making any written recommendations because "a very full inquiry" had been held and changes had already been made and were continuing.

"Some of the evidence we heard was about how difficult it is to work with victims [of domestic abuse]," she said. "They cannot be compelled to do anything. They have to try and persuade them and have to take it very gently and slowly and I cannot see an easy solution how to do that."

She added: "It's something which is still developing but it's good that all the agencies do seem now to be working together to try and change things for the better in the future."

Addressing Ms Blunnie's parents, Mrs McGann said she hoped they could now put behind them the sad circumstances of her death and remember happier times.

After the verdict, Mr Blunnie said: "We feel that a full and proper investigation into the facts around our daughter and her unborn child's deaths has been carried out."

VICTIMS: Mum-to-be Eystna Blunnie and her unborn baby died after she was attacked by her former boyfriend in June 2012

"Some of the failings that we feel were made have been highlighted. Also some of the steps that have been made to improve the way procedures are now carried out to protect victims have now been explained to us.

"However, we feel that there is still more that needs to be done to combat domestic abuse and violence to protect other victims like Eystna and her unborn child Rose."

His wife added: "Eystna is there every minute of the day and so is Rose. It will not make any difference because we think of her all the time, not just us but the whole family. We miss them very, very much."

Mistake

During the inquest the jury heard the Crown Prosecution Service accepted it had made a mistake in not prosecuting McLernon for an alleged assault on Ms Blunnie in April 2012.

Family lawyer Matthew Gold said the jury's verdict was not a surprise, adding: "The issue the coroner had to address was whether any of the failings, particularly the police and CPS, contributed to her death. The coroner made a decision that even if they had been carried out they would likely to have made no difference to the final outcome."

He said that having heard the witnesses' explanations and what the authorities could have done, the family no longer alleged that acts or omissions by those three state agencies probably caused or contributed to Ms Blunnie's death.

After the verdict, the CPS barrister Oliver Sanders said inside the court: "On behalf of my clients I wish to express on the record and to restate our deepest sympathies and condolences for the loss of both Eystna and Rose."

Cllr Dick Madden, Essex County Council's cabinet member for adults and children, said: "The council takes seriously domestic abuse to adults and children and is working in partnership with a range of other agencies within Essex to ensure that there are the necessary support services to help those affected by domestic abuse."

Lucky escape for cats dumped in sealed box

TWO cats left traumatised after being dumped in a sealed box without air holes are recovering in the care of the RSPCA.

The adult cats – a male and female – were discovered by a woman who saw the box moving in some bushes by a cycle path in the Bush Fair area of Harlow and decided to investigate.

"She found the box was tightly sealed with tape," said a spokeswoman for the charity's Stort Valley branch. "She had to cut through the tape with a car key to get it open and then a cat's head popped out."

"The box was only just big

RECOVERING: The two cats

enough for the two cats with no room to move. They were both very subdued and traumatised."

She added: "By the way that the box was taped up and hidden in the bushes, whoever put them in it didn't want them to be found. As the box didn't have air holes they would have suffocated and died."

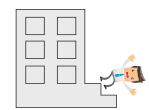

The cats are inspected by a vet who said they had been badly neglected.

Both were very thin had a flea allergy. The female smelled strongly of urine and had clumps of fur missing where she had been chewing at herself to relieve itching.

The branch, which runs a clinic at The Stow, has already received an offer to re-house the cats.

learning stages, often overcoming significant challenges to do so.

The winners were chosen by a panel of judges consisting of Harlow Council chief executive Malcolm Morley, Harlow Enterprise Zone Board chairman John Keddie, Rainbow Services chief executive Jackie Sully and Professor David Hawker, an independent education expert.

More than 100 people attended the presentation ceremony in the council chamber at Harlow Civic Centre during which the awards were handed out by Professor Michael Thorne, vice chancellor of Anglia Ruskin University.

DANIEL ROBINSON & SONS

LIGHT UP A LIFE at St Clare Hospice this December

Daniel Robinson & Sons are once again delighted to have the opportunity to sponsor and support the St Clare Hospice Light Up A Life events.

Light Up A Life is a special annual event offering precious time to pause and remember those close to our hearts, in the company of others who understand. A great deal of thought is put into the planning of these events to ensure that services are respectful, sensitive and an uplifting celebration of the lives of those no longer with us.

This year St Clare Hospice will be offering nine services at different venues throughout the local area, two of which will be in the Hospice grounds on the 9th and 12th of December. The events are part of the Hospice's on-going care, which doesn't stop when someone dies, as they continue to be there for each and every family who loses a loved one.

With limited NHS funding, St Clare Hospice needs to raise most of the £3.75million it costs each year to provide its vital services. The charity therefore relies on the local community to help raise money each year so it can continue being there for local families facing one of the most difficult journeys in life. A great deal is raised through the support of the community it serves, with individuals, schools, community groups, businesses and grant-making trusts and foundations all helping to raise the money St Clare needs to keep going. Daniel Robinson & Sons have supported the Hospice with a range of fundraising events since it opened.

Our local Hospice has wonderful volunteers and staff and this year celebrates twenty five years of care, a huge achievement. We would like to take this opportunity to thank and congratulate them on behalf of the people of Harlow and the wider community which they serve.

"We need to ensure that our

The evening was hosted by Mr Morley, who is also chairman of the Harlow Strategic Educational Attainment Partnership and who declined a pay increase in 2013 in order to fund the awards.

NUMERO UNO: Overall winner Joe Sims, who also won Key Stage 3 - 4

"The young people recognised by the awards have illustrated by their energy, enthusiasm and achievement their ability and desire for educational progression," he said.

"Young people in Harlow have huge potential and I'm sure that those recognised will continue to fulfil their potential."

"They are role models for other young people and I look forward to the awards next year when other young people can be similarly recognised."

GIRL footballers were put through their paces by England footballer Claire Rafferty when she took charge of a training session at Pear Tree Mead Academy in Harlow.

Chelsea midfielder Claire, who was part of the England team that finished third in this year's World Cup, led football drills and a question and answer session.

Teacher Laura Tyler said: "It was nice for them to see one of their idols.

"Quite a few of the girls went to the Women's FA Cup Final which Chelsea won, so it was nice they got to meet her. Claire showed them her medals and signed autographs."

"She did a question and answer session with them and they had chance to take pictures, before we went outside to play football."

Pear Tree Mead recently won a tournament and the 32 girls were keen to learn some tips from Claire.

"She was very good and told them of her story of how she got involved in football," said Ms Tyler. "It was a difficult journey for her as there were lots of barriers."

"All-in-it all it was a great day."

Police officer sacked for his handling of rape allegation

A POLICE constable who served as part of the Harlow local policing team has been dismissed from the Essex force for gross misconduct.

A panel chaired by temporary Deputy Chief Constable Julia Wortley ruled that PC Mark Smith breached standards of professional behaviour relating to honesty and integrity, duties and responsibilities, and discreditable conduct.

The hearing was told PC Smith attended a disturbance in Harlow on January 10 at which an allegation of rape was made.

Although he made an arrest at the scene, he failed to deal with the allegation of rape and did not follow force policy around the handling of sexual offences.

On Thursday, PC Smith was sacked without notice after a two-day police misconduct hearing at Basildon Magistrates and Family Court.

Speaking after the hearing, DCC Wortley said: "PC Smith failed to carry out his duties and responsibilities towards a vulnerable woman who disclosed that she had been the victim of a serious and distressing crime."

"The officer acted without honesty and integrity, which are fundamental values that police officers need to uphold to maintain public confidence."

She added: "The public can be reassured there is no place in Essex Police for people who breach the Standards of Professional behaviour in this way."

SWITCH-ON: Traders' fundraising efforts are rewarded as Let it glow! Old town

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CROWDS flocked to the centre of Old Harlow on Thursday to enjoy the celebrations which marked the return of the Christmas illuminations.

The sounds of live music and carol singing filled the air as Harlow MP Robert Halfon was joined by the character Elsa from the Disney film Frozen to flick the switch and light up the town centre.

Members of the cast of Rapunzel, the Christmas show which is being staged at the Victoria Hall Theatre by Harlow Theatre Company, also mingled with the crowds.

The celebration was a triumph for the Old Harlow Traders' Association, which worked hard to raise enough money to pay for the return of the festive decorations after a number of years.

Association member Rev Tony Mayes, of Harlow Baptist Church, said: "We have been working all year to raise money to get the lights back through holding appeals and events."

"We used to have the lights on every Christmas some years ago but they stopped when we had to get a lot of electrical work done. It was great to get the lights back and it was all thanks to the collective efforts of many."

He added: "It was a great evening. A lot of people came and really enjoyed themselves."

"There must have been hundreds of people along the High Street and at one stage there were so many that we could not move."

Road rage victim is squirted in face with liquid irritant

A CAR driver had an irritant liquid sprayed in his face during a road rage attack in Harlow.

The incident, which involved a black Nissan Juke and a grey VW Golf, happened near the junction of the A414 and Edinburgh at about 1pm on Sunday, November 22.

The Nissan driver, a 41-year-old man from Bedfordshire, told police he was cut up by the Golf which then pulled over. The driver then wound down his offside window and sprayed the into the face of the victim through an open window.

The liquid caused reddening and irritation to the victim's face and eyes but he did not require hospital treatment.

The Golf was then driven at speed along Edinborough Way.

Anyone who witnessed the incident or who has information about what happened is asked to contact PC Donna Money at Harlow on the Essex Police non-emergency 101 number.

Club's invitation to pop in for coffee and a chat

A SOCIAL club for people in Harlow with special needs is inviting people to drop in for a cup of coffee and a chat.

Essex Police survives cuts but warns a rise is likely

ESSEX Police survived with its budget intact as George Osborne announced he was not imposing funding cuts on forces.

Mr Osborne told the House of Commons that Government spending on police is to rise by £900m by 2020.

Essex Police and Crime Commissioner Nick Alston said: "I and others have been lobbying the Home Secretary hard with concerns over the levels of cuts to police funding.

"I didn't doubt that the government would listen carefully to what PCCs and chief officers have been saying, but I am delighted that it has responded by keeping the overall budget for policing at the present level through to 2020 and that it is giving some of us the freedom to lift the precept a little."

However, Mr Alston said he would not know the true implications until the small print is examined later this month.

He added: "We are determined to move quickly to address these important areas and we now have a new opportunity to do that.

"I am also currently reviewing what the option to raise the precept by more than two per cent might mean. I am likely to argue that any additional money raised through local tax is used specifically for local policing."

Review 'is an assault on council housing'

Leader fears impact on authority's homebuilding programme

William Mata

THE Government's spending review is both good and bad news for Harlow residents according to council leader Jon Clempner.

Cllr Clempner fears the council's housebuilding programme drawn up by the ruling Labour group could be left in tatters by the Housing and Planning Bill announced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in his Autumn Statement.

More than 400,000 new homes would be built through the scheme nationally, but Cllr Clempner described the policy as a "full-frontal assault on council and social housing".

"There remains uncertainty over the future funding for council housing. The proposed houses will only be in the price range of those on a salary of £55,000-a-year or more," he added.

Local government budgets will be slashed but Cllr Clempner said: "We have already budgeted services for the medium-term. This means Harlow Playhouse and Pets Corner are safeguarded until 2019."

Full details of how the Government plans will affect Harlow will be detailed later this month.

WORRIED: Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner

"At this point we cannot determine what the local impact on the council will be which makes it difficult to plan for the future," said Cllr Clempner. "We are already making plans to save more than £3.5m over the next four years."

He added: "We don't have huge assets that we could sell to fund services and this would not provide any long-term security for services.

"The receipts from the limited asset disposals that the council does achieve are already part of our capital investment plans for the future so this would simply transfer a funding problem from one area of the council's finances to another.

"We will continue to work hard to protect services and jobs but there will come a point when this can no longer be achieved. We continue to look at ways to keep costs down by improving what we do and how we do it.

"The priority is to work with residents to make the money we do receive have the biggest impact on improving Harlow."

Cllr Clempner said the decision to scrap proposed tax credit cuts was good news for families, who may be entitled to more money as a result.

"The tax credit u-turn is good news but problems could emerge as the devil is in the detail," he said. "I feel the Universal Credit changes could be bad news."

Universal Credit, which is being phased-in, will replace six benefits with a single monthly payment. This benefit was cut during last week's announcement and critics fear these changes could hit the poorest hardest.

Cllr Clempner said cuts to this benefit could leave families in an equally poor state.

However, Harlow MP Robert Halfon welcomed the measures outlined by George Osborne and said they would help families, guarantee more NHS funding, support working people and invest in affordable housing.

County Hall chief warns of possible 4% tax hike

THE leader of Conservative-run Essex County Council said the Autumn Statement will hit local government and residents

"very hard". Cllr David Finch said the shortage of money for local government has been hit by local government to raise council tax by four per cent.

"The emerging picture is that the Chancellor did not even mention the reduction to our budgets in his speech," he said.

"The very significant reduction in our grant funding will place considerable extra pressures on services."

Mr Osborne announced local authorities could face cuts between 25 per cent to 40 per cent from 2010 to 2020.

Cllr Finch said: "We were already considering a council tax increase of two per cent. Enabling us to increase council tax by a further two per cent to pay for social care funding puts the onus on the taxpayer to bridge the funding gap - there is no new money in this, just new taxes.

"In Essex, two per cent would only provide half of the money we need to pay for the national living wage. We would need to consider the impact on taxpayers very carefully.

"The Chancellor asking us to use our reserves to help would only give us 23 days of funding."

Can you help us pay bill for saving Peaches' life?

EVERYONE is getting in the Christmas spirit but unfortunately this can be a very tough time at the RSPCA.

This week we have launched a Christmas appeal for Peaches, pictured right, who came into our care after being run over.

Her injuries were life-threatening and she has needed extensive surgery to stabilise her and to have pins inserted into her hip and pelvis.

This little dog has had to go through so much and still has lots more treatment to cope with but she is still incredibly friendly and loves attention. She is currently on total cage rest at a foster home and will be like this for at least six weeks.

The vets are very hopeful that, as she has already started to stand tentatively and use her back legs, she could well make a full recovery and be rehomed.

We had to try to save this beautiful little girl but as a branch we are now facing a vet bill of more than £2,000. We are always very grateful for any donations we receive as we are totally funded by public donations and every penny we receive goes towards helping animals.

If there is any amount you could spare for our Peaches Appeal we would ask you to send it to our clinic in The Stow.

We are also looking for more volunteers to help in our clinic and with fundraising. If you feel this is something you would be interested in please contact www.volunteercentreharlow.org.uk

Ben's in the running for marathon record

Fundraiser arrives in town on day 85 of his 401 challenge

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

A CHARITY fundraiser who has embarked on a challenge to run 401 marathons in 401 days received a warm welcome when he arrived in Harlow.

Ben Smith, 33, is almost one quarter of the way through his quest to complete 26.2 miles every day for 13 months to raise money for two organisations – Stonewall and Kidscape.

Last week he was joined by members of Harlow Running Club who ran alongside him when he started his 85th marathon from the Mark Hall Sports Centre in London Road.

Harlow Council chairman Tony Hall set the runners on their way by sounding the klaxon, but not before he presented Mr Smith with a ceremonial cake to celebrate his remarkable achievements so far.

Mr Smith, an account manager from Bristol, ran his first marathon three years ago and has taken a gap year to pursue his goal.

ON YOUR MARKS: Ben Smith, second left, and members of Harlow Running Club are set on their way by Harlow Council chairman Tony Hall. Left, Ben Smith

He hopes his efforts will raise £250,000 for the anti-discrimination and anti-bullying charities.

At the end of each day he returns to his motorhome in which he is living during the course of the challenge.

"The past 85 days have been the most memorable of my life," he said. "The amount of support I have been getting is unbelievable and is keeping me going."

Mr Smith has already set an unofficial world record for the number of marathons run in consecutive days.

He hopes to be completing his 401st – and final – run in Bristol next year.

"I'm sure that a huge part of this challenge will be the mental side," he said.

"I've no doubt there will be times when I am in my motorhome in tears but I know there are amazing friends and family I can ring to get me through."

His decision to raise funds for Stonewall and Kidscape was a result of the bullying he experienced after coming out as gay.

He will be travelling to 309 locations around the country for the challenge and nine of the marathons will be official mass-participation events.

Opponents of new housing bill to hold a public meeting

A PUBLIC meeting to discuss the impact on Harlow of proposed housing legislation currently going through Parliament will take place next week.

Several speakers are due to address the meeting organised by Harlow Defend Council Housing and Harlow Trades Union Council, which are opposed to measures contained in the Housing and Planning Bill.

One of them will be Mick Patrick, chairman of Harlow Defend Council Housing, who said more families in the town will struggle with rents arrears and fall into debt if means testing of council tenants is introduced, while the Decent Homes Programme and housing services will also be affected.

"Harlow Council will sell off up to 375 council homes as people downsize due to the bedroom tax or they become naturally vacant," he said. "This means one in five of these homes will be owned by private landlords, so increasing housing benefit and lengthening the housing waiting list."

"The money from council house sales will go to housing associations to subsidise their right to buy and not all of these homes will be replaced as it is not economically viable. Only one in nine council homes have been replaced since Right to Buy, which drives up private rents and house prices."

The meeting, which will be chaired by David Forman of Harlow TUC, takes place at St Paul's Church in the town centre on Thursday (December 10) from 7.30-9pm.

Rail station staff win team award

STAFF at Harlow Town station have received a customer service award from train operator Abellio Greater Anglia.

Passengers across the Greater Anglia network were asked to nominate the teams or individuals who did their best to make journeys pleasant and stress-free or who had gone of their way to offer assistance or make a difference.

The team at Harlow Town received

the Best Station Team award.

Abellio managing director Jamie Burles said: "I would like to offer my congratulations and gratitude to all the teams and individuals who were nominated for a customer service award. I am very proud of our engaged employees across the network who do their utmost to exceed our customers' expectations every day."

The company has invested in a training programme that has seen all frontline staff taking part in a two-day customer service course. Their performance was then assessed during "mystery shopper" surveys.

More runners needed to save hospice fundraiser

Festive fun run organisers fear they may be forced to cancel 5k event

Ken Morley

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ORGANISERS of a festive fun run due to take place in Harlow next weekend are hoping for a late flurry of registrations or they may be forced to call it off.

The 5km run is one of St Clare Hospice's biggest fundraising events of the year.

It is hoped it will bring in £20,000 to help towards the costs of the services for people with life-limiting illnesses and their families.

But fewer people than expected have registered to take part, which may mean it will have to be cancelled.

Hospice chief executive Tanya Curry said: "Our services are free of charge to those who need them but they are not without cost. With limited NHS funding and without the support of our community helping us to raise the money we need to provide our skilled and compassionate care, it would be almost impossible for us to continue being there for those facing one of life's most difficult journeys."

"We know local people really value the specialist care and support we provide, which is why we are calling on them to get behind our Festive Fun Run. We have a brilliant event planned, promising a great start to the season of goodwill."

The fun run, which is due to take place on Sunday, December 13, starts from the Water Gardens at 9am, with staff from Pure Gym leading a pre-run warm-up.

There will also be best dressed competition for runners who turn up in Christmas-themed costumes, festive food and drink and activities.

Registration costs £7.50 for adults and £2.50 for children and can be completed in advance at www.stclarehospice.org.uk or on the day from 8.15am. The route is suitable for wheelchairs and pushchairs. Dogs are welcome.

National charity award for stroke survivor Carina

THE courage and determination of a Harlow woman to battle back to health after she suffered a stroke at the age of 29 have been recognised by a national charity.

Carina Trickey, of The Hides, was rushed to hospital after she fell ill in March 2012 just five days before she was due to be married. Tests confirmed she had suffered a stroke.

Since then she has lost more than three stone and become a consultant for a slimming organisation. Her efforts have now earned her a Life After Stroke Award commendation from the Stroke Association.

"I was at work when suddenly I couldn't speak," said Mrs Trickey. "I couldn't believe that at 29 years old I had a stroke. It was the trigger for me to reach a healthy weight and start managing my blood pressure."

The awards recognise the courage shown by stroke survivors and carers as well as the work and commitment shown by health professionals, groups and organisations.

Sara Betsworth, the charity's regional head of operations, said: "It highlights the tremendous courage people like Carina have shown in rebuilding their lives after a stroke or in helping others to do the same."

Behind bars: The ATM ram-raiders caught in the act

Harlow man in gang who targeted supermarket

Court Reporter

star@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW man who was one of the members of a gang of ram-raiders who were caught during a bungled attempt to steal a supermarket cash machine has been jailed.

Levi Mitchell, 31, of Gibb Croft, Harlow, and the three other gang members – Levi Smith, 49, of Peterborough, Dale Smith, 28, of Worcester and Leo Smith, 20, of Peterborough – had used a stolen JCB telehandler to smash through the front doors of a Spar store at Long Sutton in Lincolnshire in the early hours of October 19.

But police, already on alert following a number of similar raids across the region, were quickly on the scene and managed to arrest Dale Smith as he ran from the stolen JCB.

Mitchell and Leo Smith were stopped in a stolen flatbed lorry nearby. Banned driver Levi Smith then attempted to flee the scene in a red Audi, ramming into two police cars, but was eventually stopped and arrested.

All four admitted conspiracy to burgle and were sentenced at Lincoln Crown Court on Friday.

Levi Smith, who also admitted driving while disqualified, Levi Smith was jailed for four years, Dale Smith to three years and eight months, Mitchell to three years and Leo Smith to two years.

Speaking after the case, Detective Chief Inspector Neil Ballard, of the Eastern Region Special Operations

Unit, said: "This was a brazen attempt to remove an ATM cash machine from a building using a JCB. The offenders thought nothing of smashing through the front of the shop, not knowing who was inside the premises."

"Prior to this offence there had been a series of these highly dangerous crimes across the region, causing massive damage to buildings and putting the public at significant risk of injury."

"Other victims of crime also suffered in this series due to the linked theft of high powered getaway vehicles and industrial vehicles to violently enter premises and take away the ATM machines."

He added: "We are continuing to work with private partners and forces across the eastern region of England to combat this type of crime. This case demonstrates that we will catch those responsible and bring them to justice."

A night to celebrate life of 'gentle giant'

Tribute event in memory of popular motorcyclist

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE family and friends of a Harlow man who was killed in road accident almost one year ago are to hold a tribute evening tonight (Thursday) in his memory.

Jon Aicken, known affectionately as Panda and described as a "gentle giant", died in the early hours of Christmas Eve when his motorcycle was in collision with a car in Tylers Road, Roydon. He was 24.

Today would have been his 25th birthday and to mark the occasion his friends will be celebrating his life at The Square, in Fourth Avenue, Harlow.

Under the name of Pandamonium, the evening will feature performances by three bands three bands and a DJ.

There will be various activities throughout the evening and all the money raised will be donated to the children's welfare charity Banardo's.

One of the organisers said: "As we know The Square is fighting for its place in Harlow and it has always been represented as a community. Jon was a regular at The Square and a loyal supporter of the venue.

"What it has offered for free is just another demonstration of its loyalty to its supporters."

She added: "Jon was a much-loved member the Harlow community."

"Everyone who met him never had a bad word to say about him and the tribute night is a way for the people who knew him to celebrate his birthday and the chance we had for him to be a part of our lives and not the life we lost."

Tickets for tonight's event cost £5 and are available on the door. Those attending are encouraged to wear panda-themed fancy dress.

■ A woman who was arrested on suspicion of causing death by dangerous driving after voluntarily visiting a police station the day after the accident has had her bail extended until January 15.

Food artist creates the baby cheesus

MODELS of the Nativity scene are always popular at Christmas but now a food artist has created one out of cheese.

Prudence Staite took five days to complete her sculpture, hand-carving the figures of Mary, Joseph and the baby Jesus.

She also used it to make a crib lined with cheesy hay, shepherds, a sheep, a cow, a donkey and the three wise men bearing gifts. She was even able to carve the face of the baby Jesus using a cocktail stick and a magnifying glass. "Creating the whole sculpture was a real challenge as it's so intricate," Prudence told reporters at the unveiling of her creation.

"Sculpting the faces of Mary and Joseph was very fiddly but I'm very pleased with how it's turned out."

Prudence was asked to create the sculpture by a firm of cheese producers, whose spokesman said: "We wanted to have some fun and create the ultimate Christmas nativity scene from our mature cheddar cheese."

All set for Snow White

WITH one week till opening, pantomime Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs at Harlow Playhouse is set to become the venue's biggest show to date.

Tickets for the show have been selling fast, with almost 75 per cent sold already. But families do not need to worry as many great seats and dates are still available.

Not only will the production feature a professional cast drawn from the worlds of musical theatre and variety entertainment, the show will also feature seven of the best dwarves from stage and screen.

Tom Swift will be making a welcome return to the Playhouse after his hugely popular comic leads in Peter Pan and Aladdin and recent Easter musicals The Wizard of Oz and Robin Hood.

Starring alongside him will be UK pantomime heavyweights Jimmy Burton-Iles, Nicola Weeks, Amanda Swift and Jake Hendricks.

Amongst the titular dwarfs will be the Bennett family - three generations of short actors with more than 90 years' experience between them encompassing roles in Star Wars to Harry Potter.

The show will also feature 20 members of Playhouse resident performing arts school the Pauline Quirke Academy alongside the shows professional chorus.

With Harlow Playhouse's ongoing promise to make theatre more accessible, the theatre has incorporated three accessible showings. These include a relaxed performance designed to welcome people who will benefit from a more relaxed performance environment including people with an autism spectrum condition, sensory and communication disorders, or a learning disability, a captioned performance and an audio described performance.

Scott Ramsay, director of Harlow Playhouse, said "The cast and creative team is so incredibly strong for Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, with stunning voices and brilliant comic abilities taking it another notch higher this year.

"With the addition of seven of the best short actors in the business, this is going to be a bumper show.

"There will be number of big surprises along the way too, with cutting-edge effects and twists in the tale. But at its heart will be lots of laugh-out-loud comedy and magic, to get the endorphins going and create feelgood Christmas memories."

■ Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs runs from Sunday, December 6 to Sunday, January 3 in the main auditorium. Tickets range from £11.50 to £23.50.

The relaxed performance is on December 29 at 11am, the captioned performance is December 14 at 7pm and the audio described performance is December 15 at 7pm - please note there are only six headsets available.

Rockney duo back for final time

A SOLD-out concert will be last orders for pub rock legends Chas and Dave, who are playing one final time at The Square.

The Rockney duo are back at the Fourth Avenue venue on the 40th anniversary of their debut album One Fing 'n' Anuvver, which was released in 1975.

With The Square due to close its doors at the end of the year, fans jumped at the chance to hear the classic hits with tickets all going within hours of being on sale.

Their gig on Friday,

December 11, will have support from Ed Tudor Pole and is part of the #BackToSquareOne series for bands returning to the venue one last time.

The lucky few who were able to get tickets can expect to enjoy hits such as Snooker Loopy, Stars Over 45, Rabbit and Ain't No Pleasing You - which was an unexpected top five single in 1982.

Chas and Dave returned after a brief hiatus in 2013 to release their ninth album That's What Happens, their first in 18 years.

The multi-instrumental pair have a large cult following and are known for their humorous songs and Cockney rhyming slang. They are also famous for their affiliation with Tottenham Hotspur, for whom they recorded several FA Cup songs, including Ossie's Dream.

While the chance may have gone to catch the duo for their gig at The Square, Chas and Dave will be playing the Hammersmith Eventim Apollo the day after for their Christmas Beano 2015 show.

Harlow seen from a very homeless perspective

CHRISTOPHER Tew has never shied away from a challenging subject. The Harlow director has photographed a community of malaria sufferers in Ghana and has lived in a Colombian slum for a project.

But for his debut feature film, the 31-year-old has chosen a spot a little closer to home.

"I have always wanted to do a film in my own town, but the hardest thing to do is find the right storyline," he said.

"Last year, I decided I wanted to do a film about Harlow, in Harlow."

His creation - Poison Flower - is an hour-long documentary which follows the life of two women who form an unlikely friendship while living homeless in woods near Northbrooks.

The film isn't entirely set in the UK, as the Latvian protagonist forms a pact with a Harlow heroin user to travel to the Baltic country in search of a better life.

Former St Mark's pupil Christopher has asked that the character's names are not revealed to protect their identities.

Poison Flower explores love, loss, addiction and homelessness against the chaotic backdrop of the British immigrant community.

The compelling footage follows the pair as they yearn for a better life, but struggle to escape from their past and old habits.

"I specialise in marginalised communities," said Christopher, who divides his time between Old Harlow and London.

"I have lived in Ghana with malaria sufferers for a film and I am actually about to go to Cambodia to find a new subject.

"I feel that growing up in a working class environment in Harlow has shaped my thinking and given me inspiration as an artist.

"I am semi-based in London now and every time I come back to the estate, I can see that a new eastern European delicatessen has opened in the town centre.

"For a period of three of four years I would see groups of eastern European people congregating with beer cans and that was interesting to me.

"I wanted to find out some of these people's stories. I wanted to delve deeper than the horror headlines we see in The Sun. I wanted to understand the people."

Christopher discovered Harlow's immigrant community by accident when he was playing football. After meeting the two women, he found they were the perfect subject matter for a film project.

Over the next year, Christopher stayed with them for large periods of time while completing jobs for commissions.

He led a life of contrasts where he would sometimes sleep rough with the film protagonists - before going to Paris for a corporate photoshoot.

Christopher said the "immersive" experience really opened his eyes to the world.

"The camera is very much a character in the film."

"The longer I stayed with them, the more they began to trust me and they gradually forgot the camera was there at all.

"It was a really interesting experience. It was the most challenging thing I have ever done, but it was really rewarding.

"After the project finished, it was hard to go back to normal life as I felt I made some really good friends through it and made very strong bonds."

He added: "The women looked out for me and were very kind. They were very friendly during the time."

"I learnt some important life lessons," he added.

Christopher is currently faced with the unenviable task of finding a distributor to take the film onto a wider audience.

Poison Flower was the first feature documentary produced by Oxford Digital Media and has been met with rave reviews from screenings at film festivals.

"The response has been overwhelming. People have said it is a very powerful story with very powerful characters," said Christopher.

"One person contacted me to say they had not been able to get the film out of their head and made them think differently.

"It is hard hitting, but this is real life for these people. I would like to think people would see this film and put their problems in perspective."

He added: "The film unpacks so many issues and it leaves people questioning their own existence.

Christopher did not say how the film ends, but the snow-covered Latvian capital Riga made for a "perfect" climax.

Poison Flower is not easy viewing, but if you do watch it you may never look at Harlow in the same way again.

CHRISTMAS RELISH: Shallot and orange marmalade

24 hr soaking time

Ingredients

1kg shallots, peeled
50g salt
750ml cider vinegar
75g dark brown muscovado sugar
2 cinnamon sticks
6 whole dried chillies
10 allspice berries

Method

Place the shallots in a bowl, sprinkle over the salt and leave covered for 24 hrs. This process helps the shallots stay crunchy.

The next day heat the vinegar until simmering, do not boil, add the sugar and spices, stir until dissolved, and simmer gently for 10 minutes.

Rinse the shallots and dry with kitchen paper, spoon into sterilised jars, placing the cinnamon sticks, chillies and allspice from the vinegar in at the same time.

Pour in the hot vinegar so the shallots are covered, leave to cool then put the lids on and leave for a few weeks, they will improve over time but the very earliest for eating is 2-3 weeks after pickling. Store in the fridge after opening.

Serve with wedges of cheddar cheese and thick sliced ham.

www.ukshallot.com

Shallot and orange marmalade

A delicious relish that works perfectly with cold meats and cheese. Keep a jar in the fridge to liven up any festive meal or give it as a present. To make easy work of peeling the shallots, pour boiling water over the shallots, leave to cool a little, cut the end from the bottom and slip off the skins.

MAKES 1 JAR

Preparation time: 20 minutes

Cooking time: 40 minutes

Ingredients

500g shallots, peeled, leave whole or slice for a finer relish
1 tbsp olive oil
4 tbsps caster sugar
Zest and juice of 2 oranges
2 tbsps white wine vinegar

Method

Place the shallots in a saucepan with the olive oil, cook over a low heat until softened and beginning to caramelise, this will take around 20 minutes.

Add the sugar, orange juice and zest and the vinegar, continue cooking until the liquid has reduced a little, around 7-10 minutes, allow to cool.

Spoon into a sterilised jam jar, cover and store in the fridge. Eat within 1 week.

Serve cold with cheese or cold meats, or warm and serve as a delicious topping for steak or gammon.

Toasted sourdough with avocado and

TRADITION WITH A TWIST: Blackcurrant and apple mince pies

radish and watercress

A delicious, quick party snack that is bursting with subtle flavours and brimming with colour.

MAKES 20

Preparation time: 10 minutes

Cooking time: 20 minutes

Ingredients

1 small ripe avocado
1 lemon, juiced
2 tbsls extra virgin olive oil
Salt and pepper
5 thin medium sized slices of sourdough bread
2 tbsls olive oil
50g mixed radishes, thinly sliced
½ red onion, thinly sliced
1 bunch watercress picked

Method

Preheat the oven to 180c

While you are waiting for the oven to warm up, cut the avocado in half, remove the stone, scoop out the flesh and place in a small bowl. Lightly mash with a fork, then add the lemon juice and extra virgin olive oil, season then set aside.

Place the sourdough slices on a large baking tray, drizzle over the olive oil, then put in the oven for 8 to 10 minutes, or until crispy and toasted, remove from the oven and leave to cool for 5 minutes.

Once cooled break each piece of toast into 4 pieces, then spread with the avocado and top with radish, red onion and watercress. Serve at once.

Drug-fuelled party quest is a festive downer

The Night Before

COMEDY DRAMA ROMANCE: (15) 101 mins

Director: Jonathan Levine

Starring: Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Seth Rogen, Anthony Mackie, Michael Shannon, Lizzy Caplan, Jillian Bell, Aaron Hill, Mindy Kaling, Miley Cyrus, Tracy Morgan.

DING dong merrily, get high. So sayeth The Night Before, a drug-fuelled comedy of errors in which a trio of friends encounter the ghosts of Christmases past, present and future during a madcap quest to attend a secret yuletide party called The Nutcracker Ball.

En route to this nirvana of free-flowing booze and dancing girls, the luckless central characters endure interludes drenched in bad taste humour and rediscover their brotherly love by overcoming outrageous misfortune on the snow-laden streets of New York.

Four screenwriters stoke the escalating madness with a colourful cameo from Miley Cyrus and the obligatory smattering of pop culture references.

Thus when a thief covers her tracks by throwing tiny toy cars on the pavement so her pursuers take a tumble, one bruised pothead shrieks, "She Home Alone-d me!"

There's a glimmer of genuine sweetness beneath the tomfoolery, which occasionally casts a warm glow over characters as they learn valuable lessons about the power of friendship to overcome every obstacle.

However, we've seen this lunacy many times before from leading man Seth Rogen, most notably in the delightful buddy comedy Pineapple Express, which demonstrated a similar affection for illegal substances as an escape from reality.

Santa Claus (Tracy Morgan) narrates the sorry tale of Ethan Miller (Joseph Gordon-Levitt), Isaac Greenberg (Rogen) and Chris Roberts (Anthony Mackie), who have spent Christmas Eve together since 2001, when Ethan became an orphan.

Fourteen years later, the men have grown apart and realise they must bid farewell to festive tradition.

Chris is a superstar American football player, who secretly injects steroids to compete with teammates including star quarterback Tommy Owens (Aaron Hill).

Isaac has an adoring wife, Betsy (Jillian Bell), who couldn't be more proud of his transition from goofball to expectant father.

"You've been my rock through this whole pregnancy," she coos. "You're my Dwayne

As for Ethan, he has recently split from long-term girlfriend Diana (Lizzy Caplan) because he refused to commit.

He now realises that he wants Diana back, but she is footloose and fancy free, flanked by best friend Sarah (Mindy Kaling).

The lads go out in a blaze of glory by attending the most exclusive party in New York, armed with pot procured from avuncular local dealer Mr Green (Michael Shannon).

Needless to say, the festivities don't unfold as planned.

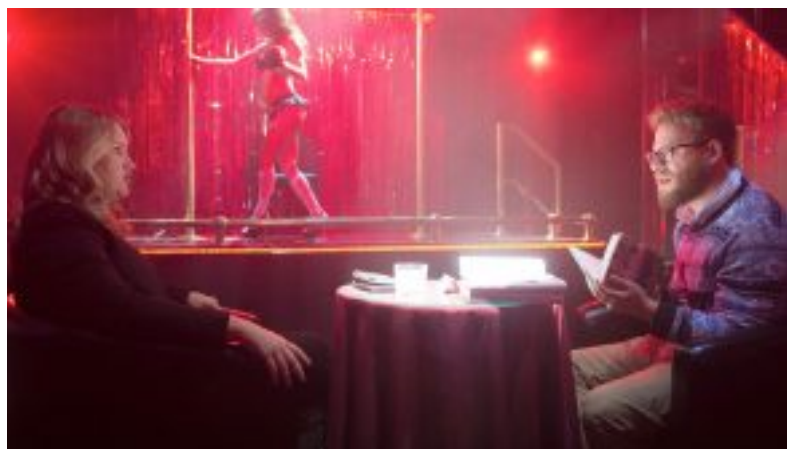

The Night Before has some amusing moments, but gags fall horribly flat more often than they hit their target.

Isaac's hallucinogenic misadventures grow tiresome at alarming speed and the hare-brained theft of a horse-drawn carriage is missing a punchline.

Rogen plays to type but Gordon-Levitt and Mackie bring a touching vulnerability to their wide boys, who are their own worst enemies.

Jonathan Levine's film is a Christmas cracker missing its snap.

Film details last shot

FILM-MAKER:
Luke Baker

THIS Saturday, Luke Baker will present his debut feature documentary Easy to an audience at The Square.

The hour-long film tells the story of Harlow band PennyRoyal as they look to reform for one last shot at rock and roll success.

"Easy follows the journey of two lifelong friends who after a five-year hiatus reform their band," said Luke, 25, who is studying journalism at Anglia Ruskin University.

"It started off just being a promotion film I was making for the band, but when I saw their relationships, I thought it might be a great film and I ended up following the band over the course of a year.

"Over a 12-month period, it documents the highs and lows of what it means to be a band desperate for recognition.

"It highlights the unusual and often toxic relationship between the two founding members."

PennyRoyal were on the fringes of the big time around a decade ago, but never quite made a breakthrough.

members Mitch Harrington and Stuart Ferguson contained moments of genius that led the four-piece to be tipped as the 'next big thing'.

With an indie style reminiscent of The Verve and The Stone Roses, PennyRoyal cut into the post Britpop mood and found a home at The Square, where they played several times.

The band will in fact be playing a set after the film screening alongside Kindred Shins and Don't Worry.

"PennyRoyal were a band I saw three or four times accidentally about 10 years ago," said Luke, who lives in Sumners, Harlow.

"I knew of them and I had interviewed members of the old band, it was never anything more than that, but there were well known to be a band on the rise."

However, the wheels began to fall off as personal problems became a strain on Mitch and Stuart's increasingly volatile relationship – causing the band to go through numerous line-up changes and eventually implode in 2010.

The beginning of Easy marks the start of their reformation process, with Chris Rose stepping in on bass and Josh Ring on drums to back up the guitar and vocals of Mitch and Stuart.

"It was not an easy process," said Luke, referencing the name of the film which doubles up as a PennyRoyal song title.

"There were so many personal issues between the two and that continued into the start of the new band. Much of the film details that.

"It's been one of the hardest things I've ever done and to see it all come together has been a massive relief and immensely satisfying."

The Square event is the only planned screening of Easy, as Luke plans to take the film to festivals next year.

He has run an online Kickstarter campaign to raise funds to make and promote the film.

"On the Facebook event, it says we have 125 people down as coming, and it would be amazing if even half of them were to come.

■ Easy will be shown at The Square, Fourth Avenue, Harlow, on Saturday. There will be live music from Kindred Shins, Don't Worry and PennyRoyal. Tickets cost £5 and can be purchased from www.thesquareharlow.com.

Apartment fit for a spy

EAGLE-EYED Bond fans will recognise this stunning lakeside villa as the setting for the final scene in Casino Royale when Bond tracks down bad guy Mr White and introduces himself for the first time as "Bond, James Bond".

007 shoots the shadowy leader of secretive organisation Quantum in the knee, although he turns up again in follow-up film Quantum of Solace and again in current blockbuster Spectre.

Villa Gaeta on Italy's Lake Como in San Siro was built in the 1920s by Gino and Adolfo Coppedè for the industrialist Ambrosoli. And if the extensive lake views weren't enough, a mountain backdrop finishes the picture postcard setting for this imposing fortress-style detached stone villa complete with turret and frescoes.

The villa is situated away from the main lake road behind gates, in manicured grounds full of paths and benches and has direct beach access along with its own boat dock.

A first-floor apartment in the villa is now for sale which, according to agent gate-away.com, needs some TLC. A bright and spacious kitchen provides a family-friendly eating area, while you could also enjoy the views from its small garden view terrace

The one-bedroom,

one-bathroom apartment has an open-plan living area, boasting original features, parquet floors and views from a terrace. Wooden stairs lead to the attic level which houses an en-suite bedroom complete with traditional Tuscan-beamed ceiling. There's also a private garage and shared outdoor pool. The owner is being covert about the price, but it's likely to be around the €650,000 mark.

Home to the father of science fiction

PROG rock epic, The War of The Worlds, is to make its theatrical debut in the West End next year, complete with on-stage orchestra conducted by composer Jeff Wayne and Liam Neeson as the journalist resplendent in 3D holography.

Wayne's multi-million selling 1978 album still shifts CDs and DVDs, and a live show has been successfully touring the world for years.

HG Wells wrote the original book in the late 19th century, but a radio play starring Orson Welles famously caused panic in America in 1938, with its sci-fi commentary by two brothers as Earth is invaded by Martians.

Dubbed the father of science fiction, Wells once owned this flat in Chiltern Court in the swanky Marylebone neighbourhood of London, where he and other residents, including fellow author Arnold Bennett and political cartoonist David Low, met to debate literary and political issues at a high-brow book club.

The weekly salon debated everything from new novels to political pamphlets and discussions on women's, refugee and workers' rights.

Outside the flat, there's a plaque to Wells, who lived there for six years in the 1930s. The four-bedroom 'lateral flat' is very long and thin, with plenty of natural light thanks to 13 windows across its south facing frontage.

It's had a packet spent on a recent redevelopment and is now on the market for £3.65m. Along one side of the reception room is bespoke shelving, a nod to the rich literary history of the building. The flat also boasts a designer kitchen and 10-seater dining room.

Not a lot of people know this

VETERAN Brit actor Michael Caine admits that challenging roles keep tempting him from retirement.

The octogenarian recently learned how to conduct an orchestra for his latest movie Youth - co-starring Harvey Keitel and Jane Fonda - in which he plays a retired maestro on holiday with no plans to resume his career until he receives a request from the Queen.

Caine, 82, told Variety that keeping things fresh had been the key to his success and confessed that while he has semi-retired from acting, he also has a hard time saying no to really good film roles.

The actor famously left the UK in the 1970s to escape the clutches of the taxman. However, he's since returned and lives in a 200-year-old barn conversion on the outskirts of Leatherhead in Surrey - which he bought for £1m in 1999. He also has a two-bedroom flat in Chelsea Harbour.

While the '60s were swinging, Caine lived in a terraced house near London's Hyde Park, making some of his best-known films, including The Italian Job and Alfie.

Originally two mews houses which have been merged since his time there, this property has been completely refurbished by the current owners, with oak flooring, air conditioning, and designer kitchen.

The gated mews house in cobbled Albion Close is on the market for £4.95m and is spread across three floors, with a library and a study area on the first floor. Its four bedrooms are all en-suite and it comes with off-street parking.

Cinema pad where pop royalty partied

The Dave Clark Five rivalled the Beatles as Britain's most popular band at the height of their fame, with hits such as Bits And Pieces and Glad All Over, before splitting in 1971.

Apart from a brief flurry of publicity around the hi-tech musical Time, which the band's drummer, Dave Clark co-wrote, produced and directed in the 1980s, he's stayed away from the limelight.

A savvy businessman, Clark was the first pop star to own his master tapes; producing records and managing the band himself. He also has a good eye for property and converted two floors of office space on the sixth and seventh floors above the Curzon cinema in Mayfair into a duplex penthouse in 1967.

Over the next few decades, his

Dave Clark converted this Mayfair property in the 1960s celebrities for private screenings. When King George VI, Queen Elizabeth and the two princesses paid their first visit, two royal boxes were installed to mark the occasion.

More recently, it's hosted numerous red carpet premieres, including Dallas Buyers Club, with Matthew McConaughey and Jared Leto.

The penthouse's current owners have given the four-bedroom home a stylish makeover. Its large marble-floored reception space has 360 degree views across the capital, there's a private terrace along one side, along with study and gym, underfloor heating and underground parking. It's on the market for £15.5m.

You are trying to run before you can walk, but patience is the key to a successful week for you and your close ones Aries. Time spent on work projects midweek can help you really get ahead of the competition and also shows you who you can and cannot trust. Ring my star line now to uncover a lie told in relationships.

TAURUS APRIL 21 - MAY 21

I can see that others have been trying to control your life and you haven't been putting up much of a fight. Your element of earth helps you to get back in touch with your true emotions and feelings from Monday, so make sure you use these helpful aspects to think about what you want and who you really are. Ring now for support.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 349 65p per minute

GEMINI MAY 22 - JUNE 21

You finally start to make sense of who you are and what you really want from your life. No longer do you feel as if you have to tow the line, but you take stock of all that has happened and of who you really want to be. An ex or a face from the past gets in contact with a rather strange request. Ring now for a better perspective on love and relationships.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 350 65p per minute

CANCER JUNE 22 - JULY 22

Travel plans you lay down at this time help you to work out where you want to go in the future. They also help you find out what and who you need to make you happy. Just be careful of telling lies in business as even white ones will come back on you. Aspects tell me others know more than you think. Ring now so I can fill you in fully.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 351 65p per minute

LEO JULY 23 - AUGUST 23

It appears that your inner circle is changing and those who are in a couple may no longer be by the time this week is over. Remember your morals and don't be pushed into taking sides if you don't feel you belong there. It could lead to one of the biggest regrets you've had in months. Lee, Ring now to hear how romance is so strong this year.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 352 65p per minute

VIRGO AUGUST 24 - SEPTEMBER 22

You have not been the easiest of signs to talk to of late, but you have also come a long way from where you were at this time last month. What you are experiencing my friend is a tidal wave of emotions and you would be better to ride it and let it go, than try to control it. Ring now so I can show you how to come out on top.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 353 65p per minute

LIBRA SEPTEMBER 23 - OCTOBER 23

Your house of work is looking really successful this week Libra and, slowly but surely, you start to make sense of recent events. You make decisions which I know are going to change the course of your life. From here on in you get a clear idea of who you are and who you want to grow to be. Ring now for the truth about last weekend's drama.

SCORPIO OCTOBER 24 - NOVEMBER 21

Money is at the root of your worries and problems this week, but the issue I have Scorpio, is that you don't appear to have been honest with your figures. In fact, your way of working things out leaves much to be desired. Older faces in your life can help you separate fact from fiction. Ring now so I can build up your self esteem.

SAGITTARIUS NOVEMBER 22 - DECEMBER 20

I know you have said and done things you are not proud of and I also know that you have learnt much about yourself in the last few months Sagittarius. Conversations you have with faces from the past fill in many blanks about what did or didn't happen. Ring now to hear why I want you to act from the heart in matters of love.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 356 65p per minute

CAPRICORN DECEMBER 21 - JANUARY 20

You start to make peace with what has occurred in recent weeks and you no longer feel the responsibility to explain your words and actions. Finally, you're back in control of your life and you like the way it feels. From Sunday you begin to make decisions which are guaranteed to make your life a better place to be. Ring now for insight.

FOR WEEKLY AND MONTHLY READINGS CALL 0911 8532 357 65p per minute

AQUARIUS JANUARY 21 - FEBRUARY 19

You are going to have to play the role of supporter and help your close ones to come to terms with the news which recently affected all your lives. Fresh hope and inspiration for a younger person hits hard on Tuesday and finally gives you a plan to act upon. Ring now to hear how Uranus pushes you to make a life changing decision.

PISCES FEBRUARY 20 - MARCH 20

I can see you're tired and I'm not surprised with the amount you've had on your plate. Try to take some time out to think about what your needs are rather than trying to facilitate everyone else's desires Pisces. It's the key to you feeling back in control of your life again. Ring now to hear why this week is such a dramatic one in love.

Invitation to potential sponsors to apply to run a new primary Free School at the Newhall site, Harlow

Essex County Council is inviting applications to sponsor a new 420-place (2fe) primary provision at the Newhall site in Harlow, to open in September 2017. In line with current DfE requirements, this will be a Free School.

We would like to hear from providers who can demonstrate their passion and ability to drive up standards and excellence within the primary school system. Organisations wishing to be considered to sponsor the new provision should alert the County Council to their interest by e-mailing school.organisation@essex.gov.uk as soon as possible.

Full details of the new provision may be found at <http://tinyurl.com/ECC-Sponsor-New-Schools>. Potential sponsors should then complete the application form and submit this, together with their full proposal, to the County Council by 22 January 2016. The full proposal should provide additional materials and information, to demonstrate comprehensively how the application criteria and DfE requirements are met.

New proposers will need to be assessed by the Department for Education (DfE) through the normal sponsor approval route, and will therefore need to make a separate application to the DfE to become a sponsor. Contact with the DfE should be made at the outset, and before submitting a formal proposal to Essex County Council. Applications to become an approved sponsor can be made at <http://tinyurl.com/DfE-Sponsors>

If you require further information, please contact the School Organisation and Planning Team on 03330 131071, or via email at school.organisation@essex.gov.uk

Recognition for running club members

HARLOW Running Club were runners-up in the Sports Club of the Year Award at last week's Active Harlow Sports Awards held in the Council Chamber at the Civic Centre.

The award was a result of having provided support, advice and encouragement to members.

The club has also raised thousands of pounds for local charities over the years through its annual Harlow 10 Mile race. It has also supported other events such as the Harlow parkrun.

Three Harlow Running Club members were awarded medals in the Essex Grand Prix series of six races, held over different distances from 10K to marathon, run throughout the year.

Paulene Galoppi won the silver in the Ladies' Vet 65 category and Colin Moody and John Tennant won silver and bronze respectively in the Men's Vet 60 category.

Prolific marathon runner Andy Kinney, not content with running two marathons over the weekend as he did last weekend, ran five consecutive marathons from Friday through to Tuesday.

These were the Saxon Shore Series of marathons at different locations around the Kent Coast.

Race one was the Oyster Bay Marathon, finishing 75th out of 98 finishers in 5hr 17min 27sec.

Race three was the Agincourt 600th Anniversary Marathon, finishing 72nd out of 88 in 5.19.38.

Race four was the Martello Marathon, finishing 60th out of 95 in 5.08.18.

Race five was the Dymchurch Marathon, finishing in 57th place out of 96 in 5.21.40.

At the Bass Belle 10 Mile race in Bassingbourn, Jared Bethell was second out of 348 finishers in 58:40. # Injuries see Harlow's Vase hope shattered

Selection woes play a part as late kick brings defeat

RFU London Senior Vase second round

Harlow	20
Stevenage	22

HARLOW faced Stevenage in the first round of the Senior Vase with a number of regular first team players missing, mainly through injuries.

This was not all bad news as it allowed five players from the Rams, Harlow's second team to move up and gain first team experience.

Andy Quinn, James Clark, Alfie Clark, Ashley Westall and Jack Almond responded to the challenge.

They all played very well, putting down markers for future first team opportunities and Alfie Clark and Westall got onto the scoresheet.

From a game point of view, although Harlow played well and held the lead for almost all of the match, it was a big disappointment when Stevenage slotted a penalty with the final kick of the match to win 22-20.

Dominant

Earlier on, after some initial pressure from Stevenage, Westall broke away to score for Harlow giving them a five-point lead.

Minutes later Alfie Clark broke clear and outpaced the defence to add a second try.

Throughout the first half Harlow's pack were dominant and a try by Josh Drake from a rolling maul gave them a 15-0 lead at the interval.

In the second half play was more balanced, but Harlow looked as if they would hold on to their lead.

Then in a space of three minutes the whole scene changed.

Missed tackles allowed the visitors to break free and score a converted try.

the Stevenage No.6 sprinted 50 metres to score a second, cutting the Harlow lead to 15-14.

Going into the final quarter another Stevenage try briefly put them ahead.

Harlow's pack responded and drove over the line for Josh Drake to add his second try to give Harlow a 20-19 lead.

It seemed as if they would hold on but then they conceded a penalty which Stevenage slotted over what turned out to be the last kick of the match and handed them the win.

This weekend Harlow return to league duty with a home game against Lowestoft & Yarmouth.

If they are to keep their title challenge alive it is a must win encounter and ultimately their success may hinge on player availability.

Some capital gains for golden boy Owen

Judo

TEN-year-old Owen Lambert grabbed gold as he fought for Harlow Judo Club at the UEL, Docklands, London.

The youngster was competing in the qualifying stages of The 2015/16 London Area British Schools Championships.

Winning all fights with impressive Ippons (maximum score) secured him the gold medal.

Due to his academic year, Owen does not automatically qualify for the 2015/16 British Schools Championships, scheduled to be held in Sheffield early next month.

However, this has given him a taster of what to expect next year, when he can automatically gain priority entry should he repeat this performance again.

Mick Ellis, his senior coach at the Harlow Club, said that he was glad his young player listened to instructions.

"There is still some tweaking to do, but I have high hopes for this young player," he said.

The club is based in Foldcroft, Harlow. For training times, visit www.harlowjudoclub.com or contact Gill Ellis on gillianellis48@yahoo.co.uk or 07976 955905 for further information.

Struggles with selection bring Wapping woe for ladies team

HARLOW Hockey Club's ladies went down 3-0 to Wapping with another reshuffled pack.

Their best run of the season was long since over following inconsistency in the players' available.

Despite the changes in personnel Harlow started the stronger.

Tani Naidoo and Rowena Rickett linked well together in midfield, supported by Hayley Leac, who was stepping up into the first team.

Harlow nearly took the lead from a short corner when Bethan Spencer sent a flick towards the top left hand corner of the goal, but it flew just wide of the upright.

Wapping kept using their substitutes and in the end the extra legs had an impact.

They took the lead when their left half was able to find some space on the top of the D and a shot was deflected goalwards, leaving Hay with no chance.

Harlow were forced to commit more players forward to find an equaliser.

They came close through Charlotte Byers whose shot was saved.

Georgina Tweddle's shot was deflected just wide by a Wapping defender.

The gaps at the back were exploited by Wapping though and they scored another two goals in the last minutes of the game as Harlow pressed forward in search of a goal.

Gymnasts chalk up the medals

VICTORIOUS Harlow Gymnastics Club members returned with a haul of medals from the DGA Chalk Bowl Challenge 2015.

Competitors from all over Essex, Suffolk, Lincolnshire, North London and South London competed at the event in Colchester.

Charlotte Brough, 13, a St Marks student, won the overall second place trophy in the Mo Chute 2003+ event, after winning gold medals for bars and beam and placing fourth on floor.

Burnt Mill student Rosie Bennett, also 13, received the overall third place trophy after winning silver medals on vault and bars and placing fifth on beam.

Izzy Godfrey, 14, placed sixth on beam to finish in tenth position overall.

Aisha Jones, 12, placed fourth on bars to finish in 11th position overall.

Also in the Mo Chute 2003+ competition, Abbey Taylor, 14, finished in 14th position overall, with Heather Cannon, ten, finishing in 27th position overall in the Mo Chute up to 2004 event.

Further medal joy in the Kip upstart 2004+ with Kaye Birmingham, 12, winning the overall second place trophy after taking the silver medal for vault, bronze medal for bars and beam and placing sixth on floor.

Narrowly behind her teammate, Katherine's Primary pupil Daisy Dove, 11, was awarded the third place trophy after receiving the silver medal for beam and placing fourth for vault, bars and floor.

Daisy Jones, 12, finished in ninth position in the Giant Circle 2002+ event after finishing fifth on bars and sixth on both vault and beam.

Coach Stephanie Rogers said: "All the girls did excellently at the competition. I am very proud of all of them."

"They have been working very hard in training and it has definitely paid off."

Leopards are looking for London treble

LEVETT Essex Leopards will look to make it three wins on the bounce when they travel to London Lituanica on Sunday.

After a win double against Kent Crusaders and Leicester Warriors over the weekend, coach Steve Ogunjimi's side will face a tough test against the newly-promoted Lithuanians, who have won their opening six league games.

The two sides met in the National Trophy in September and the Big Cats won a thriller 71-68 thanks mainly to 21 points from Justin Hitchman.

Having failed to qualify for the knockout stage of the trophy, the Newham-based side have quickly adjusted to life in the top flight and are third in the table with games in hand over the top two.

Leopards avenged their trophy defeat by Kent Crusaders with a comfortable 68-51 win on the road on Saturday.

The Big Cats led throughout after starting with a 9-0 run.

Ogunjimi was able to give all 12 of his roster at least eight minutes of action. That squad included debutant Connor Stuart, and the big man finished with seven points, four rebounds and two blocks in 15 minutes of action.

Will Ashby led the visitors with 16 points and five rebounds, while Hitchman and Ladi Brown had 11 points apiece, adding eight and six rebounds respectively.

Albert Margai finished with seven assists, while Tosin Oyelese added six points to his ten boards despite only playing 15 minutes.

Drained

It took Leopards more than two minutes to trouble the scorers, but once Brown had drained a trey they never looked back.

Crusaders closed the first period on a 14-5 run to cut Leopards' lead to 20-15 at the first break but the Big Cats opened the second quarter on a 12-4 run to regain the initiative and they went into the locker room with a 39-26 lead.

That lead was stretched to 18 points by the midway stage of the third period before Crusaders trimmed it to 54-39 against Leopards' bench going into the final break.

With five minutes remaining and the lead peaked at 66-46 as they closed out their third league win of the campaign.

The fans got extra value for money on Sunday as Leopards defeated Leicester Warriors 78-74 in overtime.

It was an unlikely victory as the home side trailed for virtually all of normal time before a three-point play from Hitchman tied the game at 60 with 51 seconds on the clock.

The same player split a pair of free-throws to cap a 9-0 run and put Leopards ahead by one heading into the final 30 seconds.

Carl Pearson drained a three to put the visitors back up by two, but Brown levelled things off thanks to an Ashby assist with 13 seconds remaining.

Leopards then played some tough defence to send the game into overtime.

Warriors scored the first point of the extra period but Brown drained a trey to launch a 12-3 run that effectively wrapped the game up for the home side.

Barnett glad to have star Sonko in action

Defender makes return to boost Hawks' promotion bid

Ryman North

Harlow Town . . . . . 4
Phoenix Sports . . . . . 0

by Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HAWKS chairman John Barnett was pleased to see former Reading centre-half Ibrahima Sonko back in a Harlow Town shirt as Danny Chapman's men picked up a clean sheet in a comfortable home win over Phoenix Sports.

Barnett, who co-owns sports agency Platinum Sports Management, has worked with Sonko, 34, since 2007, representing him when he played at Reading and Stoke City in the Premier League.

The chairman said the former Senegal international just loves playing at Harlow, and rejected a contract at Scottish Premier League side Kilmarnock earlier this season because his family are settled in Essex.

"He loves it. I have had Sonko for eight years in my company, but to get him to come down here and play, he's so happy," explained Barnett.

"He was playing in the Premier Division in Turkey and he wanted to come [to Harlow]. He made it clear to us he wants to come to this club and get us up and get us as high as we can."

"It's a bonus to have that experience. To have him as captain and give 100 per cent every week, which he does, I think that does spread through the team when they see him, and he does work his socks off every week.

"It's a great honour for us to have a player of that calibre as this football club."

It was Sonko's first game since coming off with a groin injury against Cheshunt.

In his absence Harlow conceded ten goals in four games, only picking up one win in that time.

Against Phoenix, the Hawks flew into the lead inside the first minute when Mario Noto nodded home a cross from close range.

Junior Dadson's header from a superb Layne Eadie cross then doubled the lead in the 12th minute.

Dominated

Harlow completely dominated the first half, with Dadson getting his second on the half-hour mark.

A delightful through-ball from Joe Benjamin, played with the outside of his boot, was perfectly weighted for Dadson to run clear of the defence.

He deftly lobbed over the onrushing keeper to effectively put the match out of the reach of the visitors.

The Hawks then capped off the victory with a fourth in the 79th minute.

Jared Small smashed home from inside the penalty area when Ryan Melaugh's corner fell kindly to the winger.

Hagger holds nerve to net late

THERE was late drama as Harlow Hockey Club's men snatched all the points against Chelmsford on Saturday.

Despite being at home, Harlow sported their new away kit, sponsored by EXL.

The game was one of few chances with Chelmsford keeping Harlow at bay for much of the first half.

As the half drew to a close keeper Rich Norris was called into action, making a smart one-on-one save to keep things level.

The second half saw Chelmsford grow in confidence, but a stringent Harlow defence kept chances to a minimum, carefully marshalled by man of the match Kim Harvey.

A change of tactics meant Harlow could accommodate both Adam Otley and Andy Boughtwood in the forward line.

With three minutes left on the clock they broke the deadlock, as a swift counter-attacking move from the midfield found Boughtwood in the box. He found himself on the deck, but the ball fell to Benn Hagger who slammed it home.

Harlow held out and have reached the halfway mark of the season having won ten of 11 games. This weekend brings the return of Maldon, who Harlow faced in the season opener.

Harlow basketballers prove too slick for Canvey Oilers

HARLOW Hawks sealed an 80-69 home victory against Canvey Oilers in Essex County Division Two.

In the first quarter things were pretty tight, with both teams swapping baskets.

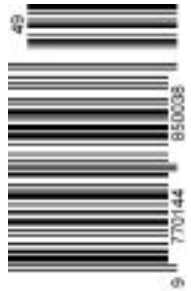

Hawks turned on the form in the second quarter with two three pointers from Shab Niaz and seven points from Rimantas Norkeliunas including a three point play in the first four minutes of the quarter, extending Hawks lead by 11.

Oilers responded with their own flurry of baskets and it was 39-38 at the halfway mark to Hawks.

The Hawks' defence began to come together and they took control to win and go top of the table and remain undefeated in the league.

Chapman wants Harlow to fly

DANNY CHAPMAN wants his Harlow Town side to be in and around the Ryman North play-off spots when it comes to Christmas.

After this week's double win over Phoenix Sports and Haringey Borough, the Hawks are currently in ninth spot, five points behind Bury Town who sit in the final play-off place in fifth.

And with five games leading up to the Christmas period ahead of them, Chapman is hoping his side can keep picking up the necessary points.

He said: "We have played a lot of Saturday and Tuesday games and that carries on."

"I said to the boys that we are on a little run and we need to keep the momentum going."

"If we can win our next couple of games, then we get to Christmas and be there or thereabouts with games in hand."

"If we can be in and around the play-off positions around that time then I will be really pleased."

"That period is always a busy time with so many matches in quick succession."

"If you can get a few wins under your belt then it looks a whole different prospect."

Harlow start their run of matches with the difficult visit of AFC Sudbury on Saturday.

The Suffolk-based side are currently fourth in the table and have won three league games on the bounce.

"Sudbury are a good side and are up there for a reason," Chapman added.

"We won't be expecting anything but a hard game, but we say this a lot."

Intentions

"If we are with it, our intentions are right and we put ourselves about then we can beat anyone."

"We have to prepare properly and be in the right frame of mind."

The Hawks will then host Wroxham on Tuesday night, and after playing on a tough, muddy and heavy pitch at Haringey's Coles Park Stadium, Chapman is looking forward to his players being back on the Harlow Arena's 3G surface.

He said: "The pitch [Haringey] was horrible, the conditions weren't the best, but we had to make sure we got the three points."

"You appreciate our pitch a little bit more, but Haringey did fantastically well to even get the game on."

"If it rained one more time it would have been off."

"But we will look forward to being at home for the next couple of games."

The Hawks made hard work of their victory over Haringey Borough, as the home side battled back to level twice after going behind.

And Chapman admitted that this is a trait that is occurring too often with his side, and one he wants to stamp out.

"We have that tendency about us that we score, then they score, then we score, then they score, and I don't really like that myself," he added.

"But it is nice that every time they did score we went up and got ourselves on the front foot again."

"We always looked like we had another goal in us, whatever the situation."

"So overall we are just pleased with the fact that we got the three points."

"We don't like conceding from set pieces and we didn't attack the ball from the corner, which isn't like us."

"Overall it was another three points that we needed and got."

"That is what we did, but we definitely made it hard for ourselves."

Not-o doubt as Hawks edge past Borough

Ryman North

HARLOW Town made it back-to-back Ryman North wins after edging past a battling Haringey Borough 3-2 on Tuesday night.

On a boggy Coles Park Stadium pitch, Alex Read gave the Hawks the lead when he smashed the ball home.

Daniel Aristidou levelled for the hosts, but that was cancelled out just one minute later by Junior Dadson.

In the second half Hawks keeper David Hughes was unlucky to concede an own goal, but his blushes were spared when Mario Noto got the winner.

Hawks took the lead in the 11th minute as from Noto's corner Fabion Simms rose highest to nod the ball towards goal and Read was on hand to smash it into the back of the net.

Borough were level in the 27th minute when Aristidou calmly side-footed a free-kick from the edge of the box round the wall and into the bottom right corner.

But the scores were level all of one minute later as the Hawks instantly hit back.

A cross floated over to Dadson, who had his first effort on goal blocked, but the ball fell kindly back to the winger and he slotted it home.

In the 68th minute the hosts grabbed a second leveller.

From a corner the ball ricocheted around the box, before Rakim Richards smashed it against the bar.

The ball cannoned back and hit the back of keeper Hughes and into the net for an unfortunate own goal.

However, once again Hawks showed spirit to get back into the lead with their third goal just five minutes later as Read cut the ball square to Noto and he side-footed past Ashley Harris.

Harlow Town: Hughes, Pope, Eadie, West, Sonko, Simms (Fisher 78), Dadson, Holloway (Melaugh 46), Read, Noto, Benjamin (Small 57). Att: 89.
